Tragic Story of Fire At Sea Is Told at Last

By DIAL TORGERSON

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — After 10 days afloat, the freighter Sandanger has begun to tell its tale—a tragic story of a fire at sea.

Ten persons died or disappeared May 18 when fire swept through the trim, gray Norwegian freighter off the Mexican coast. Forty-five others aboard were rescued.

Towed here still burning, the Sandanger was purposely run aground on a sloping beach. Navy firemen put out the fire. As the ashes smoldered, crews worked their way aboard the blackened ship—and found:

A fortune in silver and other metals—and bodies of four persons and some hint of how they died.

All were between the captain's quarters and the galley, where Navy firemen said the blaze may have started. There were seven passengers quartered on the passenger deck. A 40-foot interior passageway led to the open deck. No one got to it. In the quarters of Captain John Kellmer, above the passenger deck, San Diego County Coroner Robert Creason found charred skeletal remains of a man. It wasn't far from the ship's safe—to which a skipper might turn for ship's papers if he had to abandon ship.

In the cabin of George W. Huntgren, 66, of Stockton, Calif., a body was found between the bed and the door. From a ring and dental work, Dr. Creason was able to identify the remains as those of Huntgren.

Another body was found in the doorway of a passenger cabin. A fourth was in the passageway itself.

"No one reached the deck from this area," said Dr. Creason. "I would say the heat and smoke probably rendered them unconscious and then the fire got to them. Some may have jumped."

The body of one woman passenger was recovered from the sea near the burning ship by a rescue vessel, shortly after the fire engulfed the vessel. In the cabin of another woman, 28-year-old Joyce Elaine Wilson, a La Jolla, Calif., dental hygienist, Dr. Creason found no remains—but a porthole was open.

Crews working by searchlight early Friday secretly removed the $26,000 in silver ingots, taking it ashore to an undisclosed vault, pending litigation to decide who gets it: owners, insurers, salvagers or the government whose firemen extinguished the blaze.

Plans went ahead to remove some $750,000 in copper and aluminum ingots from the ship before she is towed for wrecking 100 miles north to Long Beach—the port she left, bound for Le Havre, France, last May 16.

Notre Dame's 800th Birthday Observed

PARIS (AP)—Bells pealed in the famed twin towers after a solemn high Mass commemorating the belated 800th birthday of the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

President Charles de Gaulle and his wife led about 2,000 persons attending the Roman Catholic services Sunday in the Gothic building that has become a symbol of Paris. More thousands strained at police barriers outside.

In a radio message from Rome, Pope Paul VI hailed the cathedral as a "jewel of Gothic art."

The cathedral's foundation stone was laid in 1163. The anniversary celebration originally scheduled for last year was postponed because of the death of Pope John XXIII, who often worshipped in Notre Dame when he was papal nuncio to France.

22 $100 Bills Are Lost in Dump Heap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In some Los Angeles dump heap, 22 $100 bills lie deep under rubble, irretrievably lost.

Antonia A. Martini told police he had asked his wife to clean up a closet full of old papers, but forgot about one little envelope. It contained $2,200, receipts from the sale of a piece of property in his native Italy.

"Everything went in the trash. They already collected it. That was a month ago already," Martini said.

"My wife didn't know about it. It was going to be a surprise."

He reported the loss Saturday to the police department. They said garbage is buried with bulldozers.

Martini said he still has not told his wife.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Ernie Walker has 8,000 boys in his great "free enterprise" college, for that's what a newspaper offers its carriers. Parents, urge your sons to operate a newspaper route for that is the BEST training our youth obtain in the "free enterprise" system. Such boys don't become delinquents or communists, either!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE S-479: Ernie Walker is the energetic Circulation Manager of the Cleveland Press.

He had previously been stationed at Knoxville, Tennessee, where he invited me to address the annual Women's Institute conducted by the News Sentinel, so we have been friends for 20 years.

But recently I was in Cleveland for a TV appearance, so I had lunch at the Press as Ernie's guest.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "we have 8,000 carrier boys who deliver our newspapers daily."

"And recently we compiled a Who's Who of our former carriers who had received our Scholarship Awards."

"Wouldn't you like to see that Who's Who?"

And I was fascinated by the list of Newspaper "Who's Who," Ernie's former newspaper boys occupying high posts especially in science and our Military Service.

We wondered if the diligence to duty which newspaper carriers develop, may thus predispose them to a scientific outlook on life.

Ernie Walker and the other Circulation Managers actually give our youth the only comprehensive drill in our "free enterprise" system.

Ernie is thus conducting a large university with 8,000 alert boys who see our economy from the 3-fold angle, namely, production, distribution, and credit.

Under "distribution" fall advertising, selling and merchandising.

Alas, most Americans never get this bird's-eye view, for they are simply engaged in factory production or else have salaried jobs in advertising, or else serve in credit departments as bookkeepers, accountants, etc.

So we should offer a double salute to Circulation Men, for they are the mainstay of our "free enterprise" system.

There are now 1,000,000 boys in Canada and the U. S. A. who operate newspaper routes.

Virgil Fassio, CM of the Wilmington (Delaware) NEWS-JOURNAL has recently completed a survey that required 18 months of his valuable time.

And he finds 100,000 boys in Canada, plus 900,000 in the U. S. A., who carry newspapers.

These boys learn to be on time, which is a sign of adulthood.

They also acquire at first hand a practical knowledge of

Producers of Fine
Printing Since 1909

OFFICE SUPPLIES

& STATIONERY CO.
118 N. Nevada 633-0033

Applied Psychology, for they try to sell new customers on home delivery service.

And they must meanwhile placate irate customers whose newspapers are rained on, or blow off the front porch.

Finally, all the boys who operate their routes on the "small merchant" plan, also collect on Friday and Saturday.

Thus, they learn to subtract costs from their gross sales to find their "net" earnings for the week.

Alas, this superb training is missed by the other 35,000,000 children of their age, which partly explains the juvenile outlook of most voters regarding taxes, government inefficiency, etc.

Remember, newspaperboys mature faster in their economic and social outlook, so they are rarely to be found among delinquents.

Girls, they make admirable husband-material, too! And excellent men to whom college scholarships should be awarded.

Parents, urge your son to carry a newspaper route. It gives him the BEST economic training in sound Americanism!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Typhoid Epidemic Reported Falling

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) —The typhoid epidemic that sprang from a supermarket meat slicer appeared today to be leveling off in Aberdeen.

Fears the outbreak had spread to the British navy were quieted. A British navy cook and seaman from the submarine Rorqual were hospitalized in Glasgow as typhoid suspects but the Admiralty reported the two sailors were suffering from gastroenteritis, an intestinal inflammation.

The Library of Congress contains 12 million books, the majority of which can be ordered from the main reading room.

Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. William Burkhardt, Denver, and Dr. and Mrs. O. Henry Schwalbe, also of Denver.

Seated in the lobby, after leis of orchids had been placed around the shoulders of the ladies, by lovely young women in Hawaiian costumes—including grass skirts—are, from left, Arthur W. Hines, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Tom Bradbury and Tom Bradbury, all Denver members of the club.

Garden of Gods Club Opens Season With Gala Hawaiian Dinner Dance

The first of two gala Hawaiian dinner dances marked the formal opening for the season of the Garden of the Gods Club, Friday night. The second party was staged Saturday night.

The Hawaiian theme prevailed authentically throughout the club. Leis of tiny baby orchids were flown in for the occasion, and palm trees, flowers, sea shells and draped fish nets created the atmosphere of the Islands.

Ray Kranz and his orchestra, attired in native costume, played for dancing. Because of the rain, dancing took place in the cocktail lounge rather than on the patio, for which elaborate decorative plans had to be abandoned.

Many local members attended, besides many members from Denver and a few from Texas.

Clement Peconi, reputed to be one of the world's best known chefs, has come to the club for the summer, direct from the Anchorage Hotel in Antigua, British West Indies. He outdid himself in preparing a true Hawaiian dinner served to the appreciative guests, as follows:

Boula Bouna
(Currie Cream, Turtle meat, rice, heart of palm)
Colossal Shrimp Kontiki
(Stuffed with Lobster and Mushroom)
Hawaiian Breast of Chicken
(Banana Fritters)
Vegetable in Coconut Shell Honolulu
Stuffed Pineapple with Exotic Fruits, Hawaiian Liquors

The cozy fire in the huge fireplace is not visible here, but was a popular place to relax on a rainy night. Seated left are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brosh, and at right, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cheney, all Colorado Springs members of the club.

Chatting in the lounge before dinner was this foursome. At right are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baxter of Denver, who were guests of Gene Perkins, right, with Miss Cindi Solberg of Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Brown V, newlyweds who were married in March, in Alexandria, Mo., were in a party with Mr. Brown's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Penkhus. Mrs. Brown is the former Christine Herick. They are spending three weeks here, after which they will go to Boulder where Mr. Brown will attend summer school at Colorado University, majoring in history and political science.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
Spades, K-8-3; Hearts, K-5; Diamonds, J-10-7; Clubs, K-Q-7-4-3.

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 Clb. Pass

What is your response?

A.—Two notrump. A bid of three clubs would be poor strategy. If the hand is to be played at notrump, which is not unlikely, you should be declarer to protect your two kings against attack on the opening lead.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
Spades, 4-3-2; Diamonds, K-9-8-6; Clubs, K-Q-10-9-7-3.

Your partner opens with two notrump. What is your response?

A.—Six clubs. You may have a grand slam if partner holds the right cards but there is no way to find out scientifically. Furthermore a series of probing bids might give the opposition a valuable clue in defending the hand.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
Spades, J-2; Hearts, A-J-5; Diamonds, J-10-6-3; Clubs, K-J-10-9.

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 Spd. Pass 2 Clbs. Pass
2 Spds. Pass 2 N.T. Pass
3 Hrts. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. Your hand is not quite strong enough to persist with the notrump in face of partner's warning. Although your personal preference is for hearts, the best partnership trump holding is spades, for presumably partner has six spades and four hearts. Remember he rebid spades before showing hearts.

Q. 4—Partner opens with one heart, and you hold:
Spades, K-Q-9-3; Hearts, A-9-3;

Diamonds, 6-4-3-2; Clubs, 7-5.

What do you bid?

A.—Two hearts. There is a distinct objection to responding with one spade. If partner happens to rebid two hearts, you will then feel obliged to raise to three, which would be doing too much bidding on the values held. Where you are not strong enough to do both, the raise of partner's major suit should be made.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
Spades, Q-5; Hearts, 9-7-6; Diamonds, Q-6-4-3; Clubs, A-7-5-4.

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 Hrt. Pass 1 Spd. Pass
3 Hrts. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts or, with a conservative partner, four hearts. The important consideration is not to persist with notrump because you have stoppers in the other suits. Partner is marked with at least five hearts and four spades and must be short in the other directions.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
Spades, K-10-7-5; Hearts, 9-2; Diamonds, K-10-7-6; Clubs, A-5-4.

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 Spd. Pass
2 Spds. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—It would be improper to respond with two diamonds because partner may have opened light to try for a part score and, since you have previously passed, he may leave you two diamonds. The slight overbid of three spades is recommended. If partner has opened a mild hand, he will recall your previous pass and refuse to go on.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
Spades, A-K-6-4; Hearts, A-7-3; Diamonds, A-10-7-2; Clubs, 9-5.

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 Spd. Pass 1 N.T. Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Game is hopeless, since you have only 15 points in high cards. Partner has a maximum point count of 10.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
Spades, K-J-10-7-5; Hearts, 6-3; Diamonds, 9-4-2; Clubs, 6-5-3.

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 Hrt. Pass 1 Spd. Pass
3 Hrts. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have already done your noble duty by the hand.

Campers Want Some Comforts

By URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — Family campers on short excursions willingly tend to forego many "comforts of home." Yet they want some simple facilities at campsites, a University of Illinois study shows.

Some 158 families who camped at two Shawnee National Forest campgrounds were asked what they thought about the physical setup of campgrounds.

The first thing they looked for was clean drinking water. Hot showers, electricity and indoor toilets ranked low on the list.

Most of the families voted for shade and private campsite locations close to water. Those who did not like the locations gave these reasons: too far from the lake, insects, uneven ground, and too sunny.

Families made extensive use of swimming, boat launching and dock facilities convenient to campsites.

Noted Polo Player Conducts School for Local Polo Club

The Colorado Springs Polo Club Inc. staged a Polo School May 18 through 23, with Robert Skene instructing. Mr. Skene, who is from California, is the only ten-goal player in the United States. A superb rider, he possesses complete understanding of the game and is noted for his interest in encouraging the beginner and the low goaler.

Local club members taking the course include: Dr. A. C. Herzberger, president; Major Robert Ehrlich, school co-ordinator; Dr. R. G. Rblfson, Mr. Herbert Goldstein, Dr. James Donald, Dr. Paul Draper, Mr. Hugh Trabandt, Col. Hugh Nevins, Mr. William Mann, Mr. Cary Crockett, Col. Robert Robertson and Mr. Charles Flucher.

Other members are: L. C. Slothower Jr. and Sgt. Dayton Hare.

Others taking advantage of the Polo School are: Frank Reed, Gene Reed, Donald Bryant and James Farr; and from Denver, Harold Gamblyn, Carl Groos and Dick Bigelow; from Boulder, John Miles and Harry Nicholson.

Summer plans include scheduled games, three in Denver and three in Colorado Springs. The club hopes to be able to accept an invitation from Tulsa and also one from Portland, Ore. to play.

For a young club, it has become quite active and is doing well. The members are a hard-working crew, doing their own maintenance work on their fields (outdoor polo played at the field on Polo drive, and indoor polo played in Penrose stadium) and caring for their own ponies.

It is not the rich man's game it used to be. Many of the players have only one pony. The optimum is about four. But the Colorado Springs Polo Club is well on its way to giving Colorado Springs another great sporting event to look forward to.

A number of social events were also held in connection with the school. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Draper gave a cocktail buffet party at their Black Forest home, for the players, their wives and prominent horsemen of the region.

A subscription dinner was held at the Red Cloud Inn, and a cocktail buffet and movie were held May 20 at the Skyline Club.

Col. Hugh Nevins was host at a lunch at his Red Rock Ranch preceding the final session of the school, a practice game.

A five-team tournament of the Northwestern Intra-circuit will be held here in July.

Senior Citizens Diet

Through research it has been established that many older people in our society consume a high carbohydrate, low-protein diet. Protein requirements do not vary that greatly between the younger and older person even though calorie needs will differ. Therefore senior citizens should be aware of the importance of meat in their diet. Meat being one of the main sources of high quality protein.

VENUS PLACED ON PEDESTAL — Using an inside derrick, five men of Weicker Transfer and Storage Co. Friday placed a statue of "Crouching Venus" on a concrete pedestal near the stairway of Dublin House, dining place to be opened June 8. Members of the crew are shown as the statue, weighing nearly 600 pounds, was lowered onto the pedestal. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Copy of Famous Statue Placed in Dublin House

A marble statue copied from the Grecian "Crouching Venus" will grace the stairway at Dublin House, elaborate dining place to be opened June 8 north of Colorado Springs.

The statue, weighing nearly 600 pounds, was placed on its white concrete pedestal, copied from a Roman pillar, Friday afternoon by a crew of five from Weicker Transfer and Storage Co. using an inside derrick.

The pedestal, nearly 15 feet high, reaches from the first to the second floor of the building. "Crouching Venus" will be lighted with colored lights and will have water flowing on her when Dublin House opens.

The statue was bought by Bonnie Fitzpatrick and Collette Divine of the new dining establishment on a visit to Rome last winter. The copy in marble was done by Carlo di Manitti, the artist who made a copy of the famed Pieta which was given to the late President Kennedy by the Italian government. The original Pieta, on display at the New York World's Fair was sculptured by Michelangelo.

Di Manitti operates the only place in Italy that does sculpturing in marble.

The Colorado Springs women spotted the statue while in Rome in December during a visit to various European countries. The original was done in 500 B.C.

The Di Manitti copy arrived at Port Houston, Tex., aboard the Andrea Gritti about a month ago, and arrived in Colorado Springs last Wednesday.

Love speaks to D&B School Graduates

Colorado Gov. John A. Love told graduating seniors of the Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind that they should select a worthwhile goal and work toward it.

Speaking at the annual commencement exercises held in the school auditorium Sunday, Gov. Love said, "The world will always stand aside for a man or woman who has a goal."

With more than 300 students, parents, and visitors in attendance, the governor pointed out to the seniors that they will continue the learning process throughout the remainder of their lives.

He said there is a great need in the United States today for leaders and that today's graduates will be tomorrow's leaders. He stated that education on all levels is the key to good citizenship and that the United States is made stronger by those citizens who are interested in improving their minds.

Gov. Love complimented the seniors on having completed the first step of their formal education and encouraged them to continue for their own sake and for the sake of their country.

He closed with a quotation from a statement by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in which the famous soldier said that he would want his son to be able to meet and best the greatest odds in order to win his battle with life and to achieve success.

Following his address, Gov. Love presented graduating diplomas to 14 seniors. Those in the Department for the Blind included Delfie Benjamin Archibueque, Joan Cecilia Bankston, Mary Ann Jersin, Daniel George Reyner, Juan Jose Santistevan, Patricia Elaine Trainor.

Graduates from the Department for the Deaf included Sharon Leigh Gilbreath, Gail Marleen Hamilton, Jerry William Jones, Rolanda Ruth Krohn, Barry D. Martindale, Helen Louise Ruff, Cheryl Lee Ward, Donald Leroy Williams.

Baccalaureate services were held at 9 a.m. Sunday, followed at 10:30 a.m. by a meeting of the board of trustees. The commencement exercises began at 2 p.m.

Both baccalaureate and commencement services were held at the Leo R. Gottlieb School Building, which is named for a long-time member of the board of trustees and current president of the board.

Other board members include True C. Adams, secretary-treasurer, of Colorado Springs; Jack Jenkins of Pueblo; John Bush of Denver and Robin Tibbets of Colorado Springs.

Armin G. Turechek is superintendent of the school.

Lawn Mower Reported Stolen Here Sunday

BOETTCHER NOW IN BUSINESS AT 10 E. PIKES PEAK AVE.

The Colorado Springs office of Boettcher and Co. opened for business this morning in new quarters at 10 E. Pikes Peak Ave. after moving over the weekend from the Antlers Hotel, where it had occupied space since 1957.

Boettcher put into service when the stock market opened at 6:30 a.m. its new Lectrascan electric stock ticker, the only one of its kind in the Colorado Springs area.

The Lectrascan, which reports instantaneously stock transactions from both the New York and American Stock Exchanges, differs from the ordinary stock ticker in that the letters and numbers stand still. The viewer reads from left to right instead of attempting to follow moving characters.

The Lectrascan displays stock symbols, number of shares traded and prices and shows from six to 10 transactions simultaneously. Market information is reported in orange characters against a dark background, affording extremely high visual acuity even from a distance.

The Lectrascan is designed to accommodate the new ultra-fast ticker equipment now being installed at the New York Exchange which will transmit transactions at the rate of 900 characters per minute.

Robert Delaney, managing partner of the Boettcher and Co. office here, announced plans today for installation of the new Teletype III quotation service later this year. The Teletype III is a new electronic quotation service providing an up-to-the-second picture of the market. Prices on thousands of security issues traded on 12 exchanges and hundreds of over the counter issues, including averages, trends, volumes, and other useful market information will be available at electronic speed on a television-like screen. Basic data from the exchanges are continually processed and stored by high-speed computers. Staff personnel query the computers from the Teletype desk unit and the information appears instantly on the screen.

Other services offered investors in the area by Boettcher include Dow Jones News-Ticker, supplying financial news; a research and statistical library, backed by the facilities of the firm's Denver headquarters; direct private wire facilities to all major markets and financial centers plus experience, qualified personnel to assist and guide the investor.

Boettcher and Co. is a member of both the New York and American Stock Exchanges. Its New York correspondent, Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades and Co., provides additional advisory and research facilities.

Boettcher and Co., with headquarters in Denver, has offices in Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Grand Junction, Fort Collins, Boulder and Greeley. It also has branches in New York City and Chicago.

May Ends With .41 Inch Bonus

The flowery month of May promised residents 2.13 inches of precipitation during her 31-day reign. She kept her promise, and then some, bowing out with 2.54 inches with a bonus of .41 inches.

This brought the total precipitation amount this year up to 3.84 inches but left the region still with a deficiency of .82 inches.

The greatest amount of precipitation that fell in any 24-hour period was on May 29 and 30 when the U.S. Weather Bureau at Peterson Field recorded 1.49 inches of rain.

The mercury shot up to its highest level on May 25 when it registered 92 degrees. This marked the previous all-time high recording of 92 degrees set on May 22, 1874.

The low mark was reached on May 12 when the mercury went down to 28 degrees. The previous all-time low was 15 recorded on May 1, 1916.

May presented us with nine clear days, 10 partly cloudy days, 12 cloudy days, and hail stones on the 27th, 28th, and 29th of the month.

The average maximum was 72 with 68 being the normal; the average minimum was 43, one point higher than the normal of 42, and the average temperature for the month was 58 against the normal of 55.

There were no days when the maximum was 32 or below, and only one day when the mercury climbed up to 90 or above, and one day when the minimum hit 32 or below.

On eight days, weathermen recorded .01 inch or more of precipitation; six days where there was .10 inch or more; one day with a half inch or more, and one day when there was an even inch or more.

The mercury never once during May dropped down to the zero level but you wouldn't think this was possible looking up at Pikes Peak this morning with its fresh spring blanket of white.

Now June makes her entrance on a bright clear windy day. During her 30-day reign, she's expected to give the region 1.59 inches of precipitation. Weathermen think she'll keep this promise.

Gardeners hope so too.

Whirlwind Windup Is Planned by Rockefeller

By MORRIS LADSBURG
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stakes his hopes for a California victory on his appeal to Republican voters to reject the conservative views of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The extremism issue figured importantly in the New York governor's last major round of campaigning for California's 86 convention votes in the GOP primary contest Tuesday.

The whirlwind windup is aimed at bringing out the vote. Rockefeller will be accompanied by his son, Rodman, and daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Pierson, and California Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, his state chairman.

Rockefeller, answering questions at a Monterey rally Thursday declared telephoned bomb threats to his Los Angeles county headquarters were "the kind of extremist tactics that have been in evidence throughout the campaign."

At Santa Cruz, in a jam-packed hotel lobby, he asked, "Are we going to pull off to the right wing position of an extremist minority?"

Shouts of "no, no!" came from the audience.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Speak Up, Man!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and have never suspected my wife of anything. While searching for a pocket I looked in her coat and came across a letter (addressed to her mother's house). I read the following:

"It was so good to hear your voice again, Darling. I am glad you still feel the same about me. As long as you don't love your husband, how long will it take you to get a divorce?"

I have not told her I read the letter. I was so hurt I just froze. The letter was signed with an initial which meant nothing to me. Where do I go from here? P.S. Yes, we have children. —SICK

DEAR SICK: Go to your wife and tell her you read the letter. The next move is hers.

The Neighbors

By George Clark

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Speak Up, Man!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are nearing 50. My father, who is 80, lives with us. We let him know that our home is his home, and when we entertain he is made to feel as welcome as any guest. Here is my problem, and please don't think I am terrible. My husband and I never have any time alone. If we go to the kitchen for coffee, Papa parks himself right there. Sometimes my husband and I want to discuss something in private, but it has to wait because of Papa. How does a daughter go about telling her own father that she would like a few minutes alone with her husband once in a while? Papa is of sound mind, and in good health for his age. He has been with us 16 years, although he has other children he could have lived with. This is the first time I have considered mentioning something to him about this. Should I? —ALL CHOKED UP

DEAR ABBY: Yes. A little privacy is better than none. Your papa may be unaware of his intrusion. First, see that he has a comfortable and attractive retreat of his own. Then break your "problem" to him gently and with good humor. If he is of "sound mind" he won't resent it. If he does, your problem is bigger than you know. And you could face years of unnecessary unpleasantness and tension.

DEAR ABBY: This is for BUSY ANSWER, whose child is this?

My son is a lawyer and he has four children ranging from five to eleven years of age. He once overheard his daughter answer the telephone, "Nobody is home. Goodbye." My son was furious. He lined them all up and taught them to say, "This is the Joseph residence. Linda speaking." Why can't other parents do this? —GRANDMOTHER M.

DEAR ABBY: You seem to have a lot of complaints about the way children answer the telephone, but I wish you would say something about the way their PARENTS should conduct themselves on the telephone. I am a 16-year-old girl, and boys call me quite a lot. When my father calls me to the phone, he yells at the top of his voice, "MISS AMERICA... TELEPHONE!" I hope you print this. Maybe he'll realize how childish it is and stop clowning. —NOT MISS AMERICA

March by Students Planned in Seoul

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—More than 30 college students were arrested after trying to march on the presidential palace today to press a demand that arrested students be released.

When a police cordon blocked their march 650 yards from the palace gates, they scattered leaflets containing their demands.

Another group of students continued a hunger strike they began Saturday. The number of fasting students increased from 40 to 80.

At least 10 students are under arrest in connection with anti-government student demonstrations last month.

Vienna's Spanish Riding School, home of the famed Lipizzaner stallions, is 400 years old.

Black Cat Almost Got Will's Bequest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A black cat named Opal must have crossed her own path recently. She had the bad luck to lose $83,333.33.

That's how much scratch her late mistress bequeathed "for the luxurious care" of Opal.

But other heirs of Amanda C. McHenry argued in Superior Court that one-third of $250,000 is much more than is needed for the lifetime care even of someone with nine lives and Judge Donald A. Odell agreed.

The estate will be divided among Mrs. McHenry's sister, Mildred Foote; a brother, Edwin H. Marshall, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mrs. Foote will care for Opal.

The present silver content of the silver dollar is worth $1 in the metal market for the first time since 1920.

President Tells Graduates About His Early Years

By FRANCES LEWINE

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, the hometown boy who made good on a colossal scale, returned to the high school where he was class president 40 years ago, and gave this year's graduates some advice on how to start on their dreams.

Wearing a brown suit with a white carnation, President Johnson stood before the rows of young faces at last week's commencement program, and recalled that his first adventure after graduation had ended in failure.

"Forty years ago, almost to this very night, I left my high school diploma at home and headed west to seek the fame and fortune I knew America offered.

"A few months later, I came back with empty pockets. I came back because I realized that the place to begin was the place I had been all the time."

Johnson told the 30 graduating seniors of the newly named Lyndon B. Johnson High School: "Whatever your aspiration, whatever your dreams, whatever your talents, this is the place to begin."

But the President conceded that he had never dreamed that "the road from this school house would lead to the White House."

For Johnson it was a sentimental journey from the White House back to the school house. Accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, the President followed the maroon-robed graduating class to the platform while thunder rolled outside.

Among old friends and kin-folk, Johnson seemed to grin a bit sheepishly as an Air Force band heralded his arrival with "Hail to the Chief."

The crowd of 1,200, many in shirtsleeves and waving makeshift fans in the steamy auditorium-gymnasium rose to their feet.

GOOD INTENTIONS

MIAMI (AP) — Twenty well-meaning firefighters caused more damage to the hotel fire they attempted to battle, the Miami Fire Department said.

Hotel guests grabbed a fire hose, but ran out of hose 40 feet from the fire, so they decided to give the area a good soaking, "for good measure."

The Fire Department said its men arrived, threw a mattress out the window. Damage from fire: slight. From water: substantial.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR — Adults who volunteered to take English and citizenship training held a graduation party with an international flavor. In the top picture Mrs. H. Stamp Club To Meet Tuesday At YMCA

The Colorado Springs Stamp Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the YMCA.

S. M. Sgt. L. P. Benjamin, Vice President of the Colorado Springs Stamp Club, will give a talk on "Postage Stamps as an Investment."

For years a controversy has existed regarding postage stamps as an investment. The philatelic collector who enters the hobby with the coldblooded aim of making money seldom does. It is equally ironic that a collector whose principal desire is the pleasure that philately offers, other than the financial gain, often emerges with a greater next egg than the one with which he started.

The collector who can balance the pleasure of the hobby with time, knowledge and experience often emerges with not only a greater share of pleasure, but also a greater measure of financial gain.

The proper way to pursue the hobby is to consider stamps as an entertainment expense. Eventually a collector — through time, knowledge and experience — may be able, by a combination of these factors, to purchase stamps which offer greater investment possibilities.

The meeting closed with the singing of, "God Bless America."

Literacy Graduation Party Has International Flavor

The Volunteer Literacy and Citizenship Program recently concluded the fifth year of free training for adults needing basic English and Citizenship instructions at Graduation Party in the General Palmer Room at the Palmer High School.

The entertainment program consisted mainly of students' talents. Mrs. Kazumi DeMars, a Japanese student, gave the opening prayer. Werner Jedelhauser, a student from Germany, expressed appreciation in English to the teachers. Mrs. Shirley Reibsch, Francavilla, a substitute teacher, responded to his remarks by playing and singing "This Land Is Your Land" to which she improvised a welcome and greetings in six foreign languages.

John Cameron, director of Adult Vocational Education for School District 11, expressed greetings for the community and the sponsoring organizations. Wayne Sweetser, a former Koshare Indian dancer, performed and explained four

Western States Show Increase In Construction

April contracts for future construction in the 11 states west of the Rocky Mountains totaled $977,803,000, an increase of one per cent compared to April 1963, F. W. Dodge Company — a division of McGraw-Hill Inc. — announced today.

An increase in nonresidential contracts provided the boost that put the area on the plus side for the first time in three months.

According to the Dodge report, nonresidential building contracts in April amounted to $250,513,000, up 14 per cent compared to the year ago month. Noteworthy gains were registered in contracts for commercial, manufacturing, educational and science and religious buildings.

Residential building contracts in the 11 western states in April totaled $520,957,000, an increase of 1 per cent compared to the like 1963 month. While contracts for apartments were up, contracts for one-family houses were down 11 per cent.

Contracts for nonbuilding construction in April amounted to $206,333,000, down 11 per cent. Gains in contracts for streets and highways, sewerage and waste disposal systems and water supply systems, were more than offset by declines in contracts for dams and reservoirs and electric power and heating systems.

Republican Race for DA May Be Settled in Primary

By GLENN URBAN
Gazette Telegraph
Political Writer

A contest that is not likely to be settled until September faces the Republicans of the Fourth Judicial District when they meet in the El Paso county courthouse Friday, the day before the state assembly.

Two Colorado Springs attorneys have filed nomination papers for nomination as district attorney, and only one can become the candidate.

They are Norman Walton, and Robert Russel. Both men have had experience in the district attorney's office.

Current district attorney is Patrick Hinton, who was appointed to the position after Don Higby resigned the job to return to his private practice.

Higby was elected to his first four-year term as district attorney four years ago. He previously had served in the district attorney's office under James Quine, who lost a move for re-election in 1956.

Walton went into office with Higby as assistant district attorney and served about two years.

Russel entered the district attorney's office about two and one-half years ago and now is chief trial attorney.

He has been active in El Paso county GOP politics since 1958, serving as county chairman for the Nixon-Lodge ticket in 1960, and two years ago, in 1962, he served as county campaign chairman for the Third Congressional District campaign of J. Edgar Chenoweth, incumbent Republican.

Bothe Russel and Walton will be seeking designation of the party for the candidacy at the meeting on June 5. Designation requires at least 20 per cent of the vote of the assembly. Thus both men can be designated.

Should both men be designated as probably will happen, then the party members will pick the nominee in the Sept. 8 primary election.

Following is a list of El Paso county delegates to the Fourth Judicial District Assembly:

Dan Quigley, Donald F. Kops, Arthur J. Hagerman, Ruth Ellingson, Marjorie K. Weber, Lester J. Sletta, Dr. William T. Greer, Betty Higby, James Tarter, Edwin Strand.

Dale Holst, Don Higby, Jerry Smith, Byron Akers Jr., Harold Zimbrick, Patrick M. Hinton, Weldon M. Tarter, Hugh Weed, Courtland Cool, Bruce C. Douglas.

A youth and a girl were injured Sunday morning in a two-car accident on Fillmore Street, the State Patrol reported.

Robert M. Smith, 17, of 1225 E. Bijou St., suffered abrasions on his left leg. He was the driver of one car. A passenger in the car, Janet D. Barnes, 14, of 319 W. Polk St., sustained a cut finger. Both were released at the scene.

The driver of the other car was identified as Michael S. Shandrick, 17, of 1214 N. Cooper St.

State Patrolman A. L. Smith said both cars were westbound when the Smith car slowed for a turn and was struck on the left side by the Shandrick car which had swerved to the left. Damage was estimated at over $500.

Police Probe Burglaries, Go-Kart Theft

Police this morning were investigating two burglaries and the theft of a go-kart which occurred over the weekend.

Intruders entered the Queen Palmer Elementary School, 1921 E. Yampa St., and damaged a safe in an attempt to open it. Police said an attempt was made to cut away the bottom of the safe with a hacksaw that authorities found in the building. It was not known how the intruders entered the building. The break-in was reported by L. E. Ellinwood, the school principal.

A small number of temporary car license permits were taken on the Johnson Pontiac Used Cars office at 740 E. Pikes Peak Ave. after thieves broke a small pane of glass in a door to enter the building. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

Nestor Trujillo, 231 N. Cedar St., reported the theft of his $75 go-kart from the driveway outside his home. The cart is red and has no motor or seat, Trujillo said.

AFA to Have Karman Memorial Book Collection

The Theodore von Karman memorial collection of books and periodicals, for the Science and Technology Section of the U. S. Air Force Academy Library, was dedicated at 1:30 p.m., Sunday. The presentation was made to the Academy by the Aerospace Education Foundation, sponsor of the collection, in honor of the renowned scientist who died a year ago.

This tribute to Dr. von Karman, the founder and first Chairman of the Air Force Scientific Advisory Board, was conceived by present members of the Board. The Aerospace Education Foundation, an affiliate of the Air Force Association, is donating $32,500 to the Academy for the collection of scientific and technical books.

In addition, the Foundation is presenting the Academy with an original bronze bust of Dr. von Karman, a display case, and appropriate plaques. The von Karman bust, to be unveiled at the dedication ceremonies, is the work of the noted sculptress, Miss Judith Bland of Reseda, Calif. The display case features memorabilia of Dr. von Karman's distinguished career.

Those who will participate in the dedication ceremonies include Dr. H. Guyford Stever, Chairman of the Air Force Scientific Advisory Board; Dr. Lindley J. Stiles, Dean of the School of Education at the University of Wisconsin and President of the Aerospace Education Foundation; Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, USAF (Ret.), the Foundation's board chairman; Dr. Alexander Flax, Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Research and Development; Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace, II, President of the Air Force Association; and Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, Superintendent of the Air Force Association; and Maj. Gen. Robert H. ROTC Listed Main Source of Officer Supply

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps is the Army's "major source of officers" to help meet unprecedented peacetime requirements for leaders, Lt. Gen. Charles B. Duff, commanding general of the Army Air Defense Command, said here today.

He told members of Colorado College's ROTC unit, at commissioning exercises for 20 cadets, that 45 per cent of the officers on active duty in the Army today were commissioned through ROTC.

More than half of the nearly 1800 officers serving in the nationwide Army Air Defense Command were commissioned through the ROTC, according to General Duff, who also noted that 50 per cent of the nearly 250 ARADCOM officers who hold positions of command came into active service by way of the ROTC.

Some 250 colleges and universities throughout the nation have ROTC units, which provide commissions for approximately 12,000 second lieutenants each year, General Duff noted.

General Duff said that civilization is "swept up in a vast ideological struggle, heightened by the unfulfilled aspirations of most of mankind, and shadowed by the specter of the nuclear bomb" and that freedom must emerge the "victor" in this contest.

"Our leadership in this quest imposes on all of us certain obligations," he added. "Chief among these is our obligation to develop in our nation the strongest possible society — strong in moral fiber, strong in will and united in the strength of a system of government which is the concern of all citizens."

He said that there is "a place for the soldier" in such times and that those who recognize that "responsibility for defense of liberty goes hand in hand with freedom find no conflict between the life of the soldier and citizenship."

Duff described today's Army as "the finest peacetime Army this country has ever had," noting that it is not only better equipped, man for man, than any other Army in the world but that quality of the men has gone up.

"Never in our history," he said, "have we had finer, more intelligent, better educated and better motivated men than we have today."

He explained that 10 years ago only 48 per cent of the Army's enlisted personnel were high school graduates, compared with 75 per cent today. Further, according to Duff, 88 per cent of the lieutenants and 70 per cent of all officers are college graduates.

Some 77 per cent of the Army is composed of "volunteers" who choose to serve. The Army Air Defense Command has averaged 90 per cent volunteer composition for the last several years, he pointed out.

"The essence of leadership is that it must be exercised to be effective," General Duff said. He pointed out that the value of what the cadets had learned up to now "will not be what you have learned but how well and how often you use it."

He said that good leaders are "made, not born" and that those who prepare for leadership "with energy and persistence will succeed in most instances."

Urging the new officers to "hold fast to the energy and fresh outlook" of their youth he quoted the following from the creed of the late General Douglas MacArthur:

"You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt, as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear, as young as your hope, as old as your despair."

Weather Clears For NCAA Play

With sunshine breaking through the week-long cloud cover this morning, it was expected that the postponed NCAA District 7 baseball playoffs between host Air Force Academy and visiting Arizona State University would finally get underway today.

The two teams were scheduled to play the first game of a best-of-three series at Memorial Park in Colorado Springs this morning. A second game was slated for 2:30 p.m. this afternoon, and if the teams split in these two a third game was set for 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The winner of the games here will advance to the NCAA finals with victors from eight district playoffs, battling for the college World Series title in Omaha, June 9-12.

Plans have not been set in case either of the games for today were rained out, but it probably would necessitate a double header on Tuesday. Weather was predicted to clear today, but clouds were moving in from the north this morning, threatening still further postponements.

The District 7 playoffs were originally slated to start last Friday but steady rain of last week moved the games off the weekend schedule. Meanwhile, crews from the Air Force Academy and the City Parks Department worked most of the weekend on trying to keep the old Sky Sox' field in condition for playing. Ground crews sanded and raked the field this morning before game time.

Both AFA Coach Connie Sparks and ASU's Bobby Winkles were expected to stick with the same lineup that was ready to go last Friday in the opener. That would have right-handers pitching for both sides, with junior Pete Bracci (9-1) facing Arizona's Skip Hancock (11-1) in the morning game today. This afternoon's second contest was expected to see the AFA's Fred Olmstead meeting Ron Lea of the Sun Devils.

How this delay will affect the series is anybody's guess. However, the Cadets have been at "home" with a regular daily routine while the visitors from Arizona have been forced to live in a motel since last Thursday evening and probably will not be as relaxed as the Falcons.

The Sun Devils are currently ranked as the nation's top team, along with the University of Missouri, and they have posted more victories this season than any other club in the country. Arizona State has a 41-5 record into this playoff, while the Air Force has enjoyed its best-ever season with a 22-3 mark.

White Sox 'Slugger' Buford Spearheads Twin Bill Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Buford, Chicago's pre-season candidate for American League rookie-of-the-year honor, has been carrying Pete Ward's glove—and little else—since Ward's recent return to slugging form.

But Buford, whose batting average to date barely exceeds Ward's weight, is beginning to make his base hits count for the league-leading White Sox.

He had only two hits in Sunday's 5-3, 8-3 doubleheader victory over Detroit, but they were good for five runs batted in. His first-game triple delivered the White Sox' deciding run and his first major league home run came with two mates on base in the ninth.

Buford, the International League's most valuable player in 1963 when he led the IL with a .336 mark, has been fighting a losing battle against American League pitchers. The little infielder, used primarily as a late-inning replacement for the hot-handed Ward recently, carried a .191 average out of Sunday's doubleheader.

But his run production in the twinbill—he had driven in one run in 79 previous at-bats—may be an indication of better things to come for the 27-year-old switch-hitter who shared top billing with Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies in spring rookie polls.

Chicago's double victory enabled the White Sox to move one-half game up on second place Baltimore in the AL. The Orioles nipped Los Angeles 2-1 behind southpaw Steve Barber. Cleveland defeated Washington twice 9-6 and 8-3, taking advantage of a flubbed third strike in the first game and burying the Senators under an extra-base onslaught in the afterpiece.

Kansas City topped the New York Yankees 4-2 on Wayne Causey's three-run homer and Boston edged Minnesota 4-3 on a ninth-inning pinch-hit double by Felix Mantilla.

In National League activity, the New York Mets dropped their doubleheader opener to San Francisco 5-3 and then succumbed 8-6 in a 23-inning nightcap that ran seven hours and 23 minutes, a major league endurance record. Cincinnati and St. Louis divided a twin bill, the Reds winning the opener 6-0 and the Cards taking the second game 2-1.

Chicago beat Milwaukee 4-3; Los Angeles outscored Pittsburgh 6-4 and Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1 in other games.

Buford's three-run homer and a two-run blast by Ron Hansen helped Gary Peters to his sixth victory in the Chicago-Detroit nightcap and gave the White Sox a sweep of the four-game weekend series.

Ex-Tiger Don Mossi blanked Detroit for three innings in the opener, preserving the victory

Foyt Collects Record 500 Purse

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The USAC racing fraternity began moving its cars and equipment to Milwaukee today for the 100-mile there next Sunday, enriched by the biggest purse ever paid for the Indianapolis 500 but impoverished by the loss of two outstanding drivers in the 48th Memorial Day grind.

Charging A.J. Foyt Jr. and his Old Betsy Offenhauser got the lion's share of $153,650 from the $506,625 total.

The first closed circuit telecast of the Memorial Day event showed veteran Eddie Sachs plowing into the side of rookie Dave MacDonald's ultra-light car and causing a gasoline explosion that killed them both.

The remarkable live television show contributed nothing to the purse, which was only $12,959 more than last year, when Parnelli Jones picked up the previous record winner's share of $148,513.

Anton (Tony) Hulman Jr., Indianapolis Motor Speedway owner, said the closed circuit TV "about broke even" financially but it was considered a success. He said the number of outlets was limited by a shortage of high quality projection equipment.

It should make a substantial contribution to the purse in the future, he added.

The drivers generally got 40 per cent of the gate for risking their lives and expensive specially built cars. They and the owners split about 50-50.

The racing people don't know what proportion they receive from the Speedway take. The crowd, probably a record last Saturday but not disclosed, was estimated from 260,000 up to an unlikely 350,000.

It was a tremendous mass of people, at any rate, and a large proportion of it saw the great ball of fire that erupted on the second lap near the upper end of the main straightaway. Many felt the heat and inhaled the smoke as five other cars piled into the inferno and were blasted from the race.

It was remarkable that the five other drivers were not seriously hurt. It was almost incredible that the bulk of the field, well around the track in pursuit of Scot Jimmy Clark, was able to get stopped.

The race was halted and restarted for only the second time since the 500 was inaugurated in 1911. The other stop in 1926 was because of rain.

The hard-driving Foyt, three times USAC national champion and the 1961 Memorial Day winner, gunned his supposedly obsolescent front-engine Sheraton-Thompson Special into first place on the 55th lap, after the more glamorous new equipment had washed out.

Rodger Ward, twice winner of the event, made the best showing with one of the new rear-engine Fords, taking the $56,925 second money. He was bitterly disappointed, feeling he would have won if he hadn't had to make five pit stops, three more than he planned and three more than Foyt needed.

An undiagnosed clicking noise sent Ward to the pits once and a too-rich fuel mixture caused him to empty his tanks too fast. Clark and teammate Dan Gurney, in the new Lotus-Fords, were the victims of imported tires that began shredding chunks of rubber. The left rear wheel suspension collapsed on Clark's car as a result of the tire vibration, sending him into the infield grass, and Gurney was called in by Lotus builder Colin Chapman of London.

Bobby Marshman, driving a year-old Lotus with a new Ford engine, set a 90 one-lap record of 156.646 — faster than Foyt qualified with the track all to himself, 154.672. Then Marshman sheered off an oil tank and had to retire after 35 laps. Parnelli Jones and Foyt had an interesting duel for a while in similar Indy roadsters but the fuel tank of Jones' Agajani-Bowes Special blew up in a pit stop and he was lucky to escape with minor burns. After that it was all Foyt for the last 146 laps.

Only 12 cars were running at the end and four of them were driven by rookies, including Johnny White of Warren, Mich., who took the special Rookie of the Year award for finishing fourth behind veteran Lloyd Ruby.

The others who made successful Speedway debuts included 44-year-old Walt Hansen of Bedminster, N.J., who had the only rear-engine Offenhauser still running among 15th that started. He was given 13th money, having spent much of the day in the pits and completing only 176 of the 200 laps.

Ward had the only Ford-powered car that finished among seven starters. Factors other than engine trouble eliminated five of them and veteran Eddie Johnson was stranded by a faulty oil pump.

The first four finishers exceeded Jones' year-old record average of 143.137 m.p.h., topped by Foyt's 147.350.

The slim Lotus-Fords unquestionably were bosses of the track while they were on it.

Foyt told the victory dinner, attended by 1,000 speed fans Sunday night, that he didn't know whether he would drive a roadster again or one of the faster new rear-engine cars next year.

"Maybe I'll be different and get one with the engine in the middle," he quipped.

Foyt sat back earlier Sunday and watched Jim Larson win a sprint race program at New Bremen, Ohio, in a sprinter Foyt owns.

The handsome 29-year-old Houston winner of the 500 has all but wrapped his fourth national title without getting involved in the ultra-dangerous sprints on the high banks. He took the only two previous USAC big car events this season at Phoenix and Trenton.

A. J. Watson of Glendale, Calif., who built Foyt's championship car, also is having an outstanding year. He constructed the cars that took the first four places Saturday and six of the first 10.

The three Studebaker-Novis shared the ill fortunes of the Lotus-Fords although Art Malone limped to 11th place in one of them. The new four-wheel-drive English Ferguson, powered by Novi, was caught in the 2nd lap tragedy but driver Bobby Unser escaped with minor burns. The other, driven by Jim McElreath, blew a cylinder before the midway point.

There was some agitation in the garages, right after the race, to outlaw the high-octane gasoline that burned violently after the collision of the Sachs and MacDonald Ford-powered cars. The possibility undoubtedly will be discussed at the USAC rules committee meeting in September.

Foyt's car was owned by Bill Ansted, who had been trying to win for 15 years, and Shirley Murphy, Indianapolis business-

Ruby won $35,650 for third place in the Forbes Watson-Offy roadster; White $20,700 for fourth in the Delmer Watson roadster; Johnny Boyd $17,625 for fifth in the Vita Fresh Kuzma roadster; Bud Tingelstad $15,375 for sixth in the Federal Engineering Trevis roadster; Dick Rathmann $13,500 for seventh in the Chapman Watson roadster; rookie Bob Harkey $12,200 for eighth in the Weir Watson roadster; rookie Bob Wente $11,350 for ninth in the Morecroft Trevis roadster and Bobby Grim $10,000 for 10th in the Vatis Kurtis roadster.

A ROSE SWEETENS SECOND PLACE—Roger Ward, right, who finished second, had this expression with a garland of roses around his neck in the Indianapolis Speedway ceremonies. The winner, A. J. Foyt, left, did the honors—doffing his own award for the hijinks. The picture was taken in a garage when Ward went to Foyt to offer congratulations. (AP Wirephoto)

Rear-Engine Challenge Gets Serious Set Back

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—This was supposed to be the year that the rear-engine racer shoved the traditional roadster into the limbo in the rich Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Instead, two of the Ford-powered creations became blazing deathtraps in the Memorial Day race, and the rear-engine racer's challenge may have been set back permanently.

Drivers and observers alike were critical of the cars in which Detroit veteran Eddie Sachs, 37, and promising El Monte, Calif., sports car driver Dave MacDonald, 26, were burned fatally Saturday in the worst 500-mile race smashup in 31 years.

A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., shunned a rear-engine car to drive his older, front-engine Offenhauser roadster to victory and later explained, "what I'm really scared about in a rear-engine car is the damned fuel sitting all around you. To me they aren't real safe cars."

The rear-engine racers carried large fuel tanks on each side of the driver's cockpit. The pilot drives in a half-lying position which makes it difficult to escape quickly from the car.

Foyt said, "it's like lying in a bathtub of gasoline. You can't get out of it."

Others expressed objections to the highly flammable gasoline that Ford engineers preferred drivers to use instead of the usual methyl alcohol. Racing gasoline gives better mileage, but the alcohol mixture gives higher speed and is less flammable.

Louis Meyer, three-time winner of the 500 and manufacturer of the Offenhauser engine, said he thought gasoline was too dangerous for the high-speed Indy race.

Bob Wilke of Milwaukee, owner of the rear-engine Ford-powered car which two-time winner Rodger Ward drove to second place while using alcohol, said, "something has to be done about that fuel."

He added, "it's hyped up with additives. You saw how Sachs' whole car was on fire immediately."

Three cars burned—those of Sachs, MacDonald, and rookie Ronnie Duman of Dearborn, Mich., who leaped to safety. Firefighters had difficulty in extinguishing flames. Sachs, who was trapped 10 minutes, burned to death in his cockpit.

Ironically, the crash may have been caused by a rule change made by the U.S. Auto Club in what it called safety interests.

The Speedway establishment, long resistant to change, insisted this year that the 12-inch wheels used by Mickey Thompson's cars in 1963 should be discarded and set a 15-inch minimum.

Mets - Giants Battle 23 Innings Before S.F. Team Pulls Out Win

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Gaylord and Galen gave their show an out-of-town tryout, they never realized it would be so well received once it hit Broadway that they would have to extend their performance.

The players — pitchers Gaylord Perry and Galen Cisco — and their teammates — the San Francisco Giants and the New York Mets — did just that Sunday as they waded through 23 innings in the longest game in major league history from the standpoint of time.

The Giants and the Mets did not exactly play on Broadway but a few miles away at Shea Stadium. The Giants won the seven-hour-and-23-minute production 6-4. The victory came after they had taken a mere 2:29 to win the opener of the doubleheader 5-3.

Just 15 days before, in San Francisco, the same teams played 15 innings with the Giants winning 6-4. Perry was the winner in that one and Cisco the loser.

The right-handed hurlers performed in the same roles Sunday. Perry, who pitched only one inning in the earlier game, went 10 innings this time. Cisco, who lasted 1 2-3 innings May 16, made it through nine innings.

The game took more time than it would to sit through Hamlet twice. The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers previously had played the longest game—seven hours even—June 24, 1962. And only three games went more innings than Sunday's.

Cisco—who really couldn't be blamed if, like Hamlet, he started seeing ghosts—limited the Giants to two hits in eight innings before Jim Davenport tripled with two out in the 23rd.

Pinch hitter Del Crandall drove Davenport home with a ground-rule double after Cap Peterson was walked purposely. Jesus Alou brought Peterson home with an infield single.

Elsewhere in the NL, Chicago nipped Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings. Philadelphia stopped Houston 4-1, Los Angeles got by Pittsburgh 6-4 and St. Louis edged Cincinnati 2-1 after losing 6-0.

In the American League, Chicago swept Detroit 5-3 and 8-3, Cleveland took Washington twice 9-6 and 8-3 Baltimore nipped Los Angeles 2-1, Boston edged Minnesota 4-3 and Kansas City beat New York 4-2.

A crowd of 57,037, largest in the majors this season, saw the Mets pull a triple play in the 14th inning and Giants' Manager Al Dark ejected in the 15th. The fans also saw the Mets' Joe Christopher play the role of the villain with his three-run homer in the seventh that sent the game into extra innings.

Orlando Cepeda stole home with the deciding run in the opener. Juan Marichal won his eighth game in nine decisions.

Billy Williams cracked his 13th home run in the 10th inning for the Cubs' triumph. Billy Cowan's run-scoring single tied the game for the Cubs in the ninth. Williams, getting three hits, increased his league-leading average to .414.

Art Mahaffey walked seven Colts, but Richie Allen and Ruben Amaro backed him with two-run homers as the Phillies remained in first place.

Sandy Koufax won his fifth game against four defeats, but he needed the aid of Pittsburgh errors and reliever Ron Perzanoski. Two of the Dodgers' runs in the four-run third scored with the help of the miscues. Tommy Davis singled home Jim Gilliam with the tie-breaking run in the eighth.

Bob Gibson ignited a two-run Cardinals' rally in the eighth inning of the nightcap with a single, then held off a Reds' outburst in the ninth for his fifth

Funeral Services Set for Sachs, Dave MacDonald

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services for Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald, drivers killed in the Indianapolis 500 Saturday, are tentatively scheduled for Wednesday in Bethlehem and Whittier, Calif.

Sachs, an eight-time veteran of the Indianapolis 500, was the first to die in the flaming pile-up of racers on the second lap of the annual race.

A spokesman for the Downing Funeral Home in Bethlehem said arrangements still must be confirmed, and this probably won't be done until Monday when his body will arrive by plane from Indianapolis.

Sachs was a native of Bethlehem, but for the past couple of years has lived in the suburbs of Detroit.

Survivors include his widow, the former Nance McGarrity, of Coopersburg, Pa.; a two-year-old son, Edward J. III; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sachs, of Greensboro, N.C., and a brother, William of Columbia, S.C.

Services for MacDonald, 26 and a rookie at Indianapolis, are tentatively scheduled for Wednesday in Whittier.

MacDonald, from El Monte, Calif., is survived by his widow, Sherry, and two children, Richie, 7, and Vicki, 5.

Star Teams Schedule Practice Under Lights

Two area all-star baseball teams hope to resume workouts today for Friday's first annual All-Star Game at Memorial Park.

The heavy rains of the past few days have limited the practice times of both the Metropolitan and City stars but with skies clearing this morning there was hope that a full schedule will be possible this week.

Both squads are due to move under the lights for practices tonight and Tuesday, in preparation for Friday's night game. The City stars, coached by Gih Funk and Jerry Hughes, are scheduled for a 7 p.m. session this evening with the Metropolitan team following at 8:30. The teams will reverse that schedule Tuesday night.

In addition, Funk plans to send his City squad through a workout at 1 p.m. today at Palmer's Erps Field. The Wasson High coach said this morning that the team was behind schedule due to the inclement weather.

The last practice held was Friday and that was indoors at Palmer. A scrimmage game, scheduled for Saturday morning, had to be called off.

The City team is composed of senior players from Wasson, Palmer, and St. Mary's. Five outlying schools, Air Academy High, Cheyenne Mountain, Harrison, Manitou Springs, and Widefield, have players on the Metropolitan squad.

Late last week Harris Hetzler, business manager for the game, said ticket sales appeared to be going well. Adult tickets are on sale at the Palmer and Wasson business offices, at Blick's in downtown Colorado Springs, and through individuals connected with the game, including the players. Student tickets may be obtained at any of the participating high schools. All proceeds will be used for the summer baseball program in Colorado Springs.

Original Comedy Not Too Great, Critic Claims

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — When "More, More, More," an original comedy started on NBC Sunday night, it seemed for the first few minutes we were going to see one of those mad, gay shows reminiscent of the good old movie days when Robert Montgomery was always a rich playboy or debonaire Cary Grant was pursuing Irene Dunne or Katharine Hepburn.

It started with a poor but happy young couple just making out on $6,000 a year, worrying over bills and a leaky coffee pot. Suddenly they have a $500,000 windfall and the husband sets out to really enjoy spending his money.

So far, so good. But the spending device was overdone and got out of hand. The rest of the show was less comedy than a burlesque.

Our hero started buying a Rembrandt "with a little Van Gogh on the side to brighten it up," an apartment house and a pair of English limousines for his girl friend, a baby elephant and every dress in Christian Dior's collection for his wife.

Then his wife got into the act, acquiring a prize fighter, a night club, a bank, one sable hand 15 mink coats.

The clincher and big gag was when she asked her husband how many golf clubs made a set. Fourteen, he replied.

Then in a voice like Jane's in the "Easy Aces," she said "Goody, then I think I'll buy those in Connecticut."

That golf club-buying joke is just a little bit older than Milton Berle and started life as an early Texas millionaire story.

The whole show was a bit of misguided fluff, and very hard to wind up. After the young couple stopped their buying spree and made up, the thing sort of drifted into an inconclusive windup.

Martin Miller, late of "Route 66" is neither Cary Grant nor Robert Montgomery, and played the boy with the Midas touch with a sort of fumbling naivete. Patricia Barry did what she could with the thankless wife's role, and Corinne Calvet as the other woman was dressed up to look and act like a hermit's idea of a French femme fatale.

Network television's passionate preoccupation with the California primary election Tuesday is beginning to have a strange effect on some East Coast viewers—3,000 miles from the action.

The networks seems to be giving the democratic senatorial contest, with local issues and political implications, almost as much attention as they are awarding the pitched battle for the 86 delegates to the Republican national convention.

Perhaps it is their way of giving equal time to the two major parties at a time when there is not much of a democratic contest for the presidential nomination. Or maybe it is roadwork for their news staffs to get them training for the campaigns and election in November.

Birth Control Clinic Argument Is Voiced

LONDON (AP)—The Roman Catholic archbishop of Westminster says a woman doctor who operates a birth control clinic was not recognized by the altar priest who gave the woman the sacrament.

Dr. Anne Bizeanek, 36, who is defying the Roman Catholic Church by continuing to run her clinic, insisted the priest recognized her at the altar Sunday.

Dr. Bizeanek has been refused communion at her own parish church in Wallasey, Cheshire, each Sunday for the past six months. She had notified Archbishop John Heenan by letter that she would attend a low Mass Sunday at his cathedral.

MIAMI (AP) — A southwestern suburban resident told the county zoning board he moved to the area for peace and quiet, but wasn't happy with all the quiet he would get.

The board has given permission for a 150-acre cemetery to be built near the man's home.
